New World Stoneworks is the leader in natural stone veneer with a patented stonework system that utilizes water to shape natural stone according to an architect's CAD design plan. The revolutionary process first shapes each stone using high-pressure water, then etches a number in the stone according to its position in the design, and finally each stone is hand chiseled using traditional hammer and chisel techniques.

All stones are delivered to the jobsite ready to install according to laminated instructions, totally eliminating jobsite waste and dusty cutting. The system installs up to 90% faster than conventional masonry techniques and ensures total control over the design and budget.
